Due to a Nevada Supreme Court decision, if you utilize your personal cellphone or other electronic devices and/or your private e-mail account to receive or transmit information or correspondence regarding City of Las Vegas committee or commission business, any member of the public may request (through a written public records request) that you maintain and/or produce such information at any time. This may or may not subject your personal e-mail account and/or cellphone contents to review by a member of city staff, a requesting person or member of the judiciary to confirm compliance. The use of private entities (vendors, devices and e-mail accounts) in the provision of public services "must not deprive members of the public access to inspect and copy books and records relating to the provision of those services". NRS 239.001(4).

In order to keep your private e-mail account information private, appointed board members may supply the City with an e-mail address other than that listed above to be used for your board business only. Doing so is strictly voluntary, but may be more strongly encouraged for members of boards with certain authority. Please indicate below your understanding of the information provided. Upon appointment, staff will reach out to you for confirmation of the e-mail address you wish to be utilized.

I understand my responsibilities as outlined above in relation to maintaining and producing information or correspondence regarding city of Las Vegas committee or commission business upon request.
