

What is Our Future East Las Vegas plan?

Our Future East Las Vegas is a multifaceted vision for Ward 3 consisting of various initiatives aimed at bringing economic development, housing options, public infrastructure and services to neighborhoods. The initiatives are all part of the implementation of the 2050 Master Plan.

Who is spearheading Our Future East Las Vegas plan? This campaign and overall effort is managed and administered by city of Las Vegas.

What is the 2050 master plan?

The 2050 Master Plan provides the foundation for future land development, parks accessibility, transportation improvements and job creation in 16 different geographic areas to include the greater area of East Las Vegas.

Some components of the East Las Vegas master plan are already underway and include developing a housing project that will bring affordable and market rate options for housing that also incorporates commercial space, a community center, a workforce training center and park space. This proposed area for this project is on the site of the current Desert Pines Golf Club.

In addition, there is also a focus on neighborhood revitalization known as NRSA, where current efforts are underway. This area is generally bordered by I-515/U.S.95 and Wengert Avenue from north to south and Bruce Street and Mojave from west to east.

Does this mean elements of the overall plan won't get started until 2050?

The goal of the 2050 master plan is to establish a vision for the future, and act as a guide for policy recommendations and physical improvements in the years to come.

What are the core components of Our Future East Las Vegas plan?

The vision for Our Future East Las Vegas is to develop and maintain an equitable, resilient, healthy, livable and innovative community and do so by respecting the history of the area and ensuring residents are not displaced or unintentionally hurt by these improvements.

How is the final plan for east Las Vegas decided?

As the process moves forward, many ideas and concepts from community input will be shared, developed and adopted into the plan. With the ultimate goal that the plan be implementation-focused, relevant, clear and adaptable to change.
