

The Mayor's Urban Design Awards (MUDAs) were created by Mayor Oscar B. Goodman in 2006 to encourage and promote quality urban design principles and to recognize those companies and individuals that have contributed to these goals.

The MUDAs are open for nominations every fall, recognizing projects which have been completed during the current calendar year within the urbanized core of Las Vegas. The four categories for project nominations are: Building(s) and Environment, Public Places, Public Art and Historic Preservation and Adaptive Reuse.
